THE NEW ENGLAND ANCESTRY OF JOHN CLARK JACOBS, BORN IN
_____, OHIO, MAY 4, 1835; DIED IN GARLAND, TEXAS, JAN. 28, 1923.

1. Nicholas Jacobs, came to America in 1633, and settled in Hingham, Mass. He came from Hingham, Suffolk County, England, and according to Cushing's Manuscript, he had with him, his wife, Mary, his two children, and his "cozen", (probably his nephew), Thomas Lincoln, weaver; they were in "a list of names of such persons as came out of the Town of Hingham, and towns adjacent in the County of Norfolk, in the Kingdom of England, and into New England and settled in Hingham." (1)

Nicholas Jacobs was made a selectman in 1637; he was licensed by the general court Oct. 7, 1640, to keep an ordinary; he was a commissioner in 1646; and in 1648, he was a Deputy of Hingham; his will is dated May 18, 1657; at his death, June 5, 1657, his estate was appraised at 393 pounds, 8 shillings, 6 pence.

Children of Nicholas and Mary _____ Jacobs

1. John, born in England about 1630, died Sept. 18, 1693. He had a son, John, who "was slain by Indians near his father's house, 19 Apr. 1676, age 22 yrs."
- ii. Elizabeth, born in England, 1632, married 1st: John Thaxter, Dec. 4, 1648; married 2nd: Daniel Cushing, Mar. 23, 1690.
- iii. Mary, born , married John Otis, Jr.
- iv. Sarah, born , married Matthew Cushing, Jr.
- v. Hannah, born Nov. 6, 1642, Hingham; buried Nov. 24, 1642.
- vi. Deborah, born Hingham, Nov. 26, 1643; married Nathaniel Thomas, Feb. 11, 1663.
- 2+ vii. JOSEPH, born May 1, 1646, Hingham, Mass. (2)

2. Joseph Jacobs, (Nicholas), born May 1, (baptized May 10), 1646, married Hannah Bosworth, born Apr. 30, (baptized July 16), 1650, Hull, Mass. (3) See Bosworth Line. Joseph Jacobs died at Bristol, R. I., Feb. 9, 1708; Hannah, his wife, died sometime after Jan. 23, 1731/32, as she joined the Woodstock Hill, Conn. Church on that day with her son, Nathaniel, and wife. (4) Apparently, Hannah Jacobs was not living in 1741, as her son and wife united with the Thompson, Conn. Church that year, and the mother is not listed. (5)

Records indicate that Joseph Jacobs served in King Philip's War, 1675-76. (5a) He is mentioned in the will of his brother, John, who died Sept. 18, 1693; (6) Joseph was made a freeman of Hingham, 1683. He removed about 1696 to Bristol, (then, Mass., now, R. I.) where his wife's father, Deacon Nathaniel Bosworth, had already gone. Joseph made his will May 26, 1703, (1705?) at Bristol; he died there Feb. 9, 1708; his will was probated in Boston, Apr. 22, 1708. Although Joseph and Hannah Jacobs had 6 children, the only one living at the time of the father's death was Nathaniel. In Joseph Jacobs' will, executed "in Bristol, in the Province of Mass. Bay in New England," he first gave all to his "loveing wife Hannah, to be her onely and absolute Dispose and for her use for and Dureing her natural life. Secondly, after Decease of Hannah my wife I give all to Nathaniel Jacob my onely surviving son....provided all wayes that my said son carry it well to his mother my said wife Hannah and shall not greave her but contrary wise shall be a comfort and support to her in her old age..." Joseph Jacobs' estate is itemized, and amounted to 968 pounds, 17 shillings. (7)

After the death of Joseph Jacobs, Hannah, his widow, and her son, Nathaniel, continued to live in Bristol, R. I., some years. "On the sixth day Nov. 12th year of her majesties Reign Ann Queen of Great Britain, 1713," they sold to Edward Bosworth, Jr., 13 $\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land in Bristol; (8) and again, May 21, 1719, they sold land--this time to John Bosworth, Hannah's brother. (9)

Children of Joseph and Hannah Bosworth Jacobs

- i. Joseph, born Feb. 20, 1672/3; died soon.
- ii. Joseph, born Apr. 10, 1675
- iii. Benjamin, born Apr. 10, 1677; died young.
- iv. Benjamin, born Apr. 10, 1680.
- 3+ v. NATHANIEL, born June 29, 1683.
- vi. Mary, born Sept. 16, 1686; died young. (10)

One published record of the Jacobs family gives the name of Joseph Jacobs' wife as Hannah Whitman, which is erroneous. (11) Another mistake seems to be the statement that Joseph Jacobs removed to Bristol, soon after his wife's father, Deacon Nathaniel Bosworth, went there in 1683. (12) However, we find that Joseph Jacobs was still in Hingham in 1685, as he was made a constable that year. (13) Still later, his daughter, Mary, (vi) "aged 8 yrs. 6 mo. 6 dayes dyed," in 1694/5, and was buried in the High Street cemetery, Hingham. (14) Thus, it would appear that Joseph Jacobs removed to Bristol, R. I., about 1696.

In the published records of vital statistics of Rhode Island, the date of Mary's death differs from the one given in Hingham; under Deaths in Bristol County, we find: Mary Jacobs (at Hingham) Mar. 22, 1696. This must be an error; (her tombstone says 1694/5.) There are two other puzzling vital records in the R. I. ones. Under deaths: Benjamin, of Joseph and Hannah, Aug. 17, 1703; and Joseph, Jr., Nov. 1, 1703. These death dates are after Joseph Jacobs made his will, (May 26, 1703,) yet in the will, he states that only his son, Nathaniel, is living. Could the will have been revised after Joseph, Jr.'s death in Nov.? Or could the will have been executed in 1705? The father, Joseph, did not die until 1708. (15)

3. Nathaniel Jacobs, (Joseph, ²Nicholas,) born June 29, 1683, married Mercy Whitman, Oct. 22, 1713. (16) See Whitman Line. Mercy's birthdate, 1689, is calculated from her gravestone; no record was found. Nathaniel Jacobs died Feb. 22, 1772, and is buried in East Thompson, Conn. cemetery. His wife, Mercy, died Feb. 21, 1774, aged 85 years, and is buried beside her husband in East Thompson cemetery. (17)

From the records of the First Congregational Church, Bristol, R. I., under 1722: "July 29, Nathaniel Jacobs and wife, Mercy, were taken into full communion." On Aug. 5th of the same year, three children of Nathaniel and Mercy Jacobs were baptized, Joseph, Benjamin and Mary; and on March 17, 1723, their daughter, Hannah, was baptized. (18) The next year, 1724, Nathaniel Jacobs was made a freeman. (19)

Several years later, Nathaniel Jacobs, his wife, Mercy, and his mother, Hannah, were dwelling in Woodstock, Conn. All three were admitted to the Woodstock, (Woodstock Hill,) Church, Jan. 23, 1731/32, "dismissed from the church in Bristol." (20) When the Rev. Abel Stiles, (brother of President Stiles of Yale,) was ordained pastor of the Church in Woodstock, July 27, 1737, Deacon Lyon and Nathaniel Jacobs were appointed to make provision, "honorable but not extravagant," for the ordaining council. Nathaniel was designated as "a temporary resident from Bristol, who soon moved to Thompson parish." (21)

As early as 1708, David Jacobs, "and others of that name," had come from Hingham, Scituate, and Andover, Mass., and had settled in Windham County, Conn., and "had formed a company to dispose of land." (22)

"In 1741, Nathaniel Jacobs of Bristol, (after a brief residence in Woodstock,) purchased of John Wiley for 900 pounds, old tenor, a part of the Saltonstall tract. Jacobs and his five sons took possession of this wild tract, which was afterwards known as 'Jacobs District.' His house, as the last preceding a long stretch of wilderness, became a welcome resting place to many a weary traveler and was widely known as the Halfway House between Hartford and Boston." (23)

In the same year, 1741, Nathaniel Jacobs and wife were admitted to the Congregational Church, Thompson, Conn. (24)

4. Benjamin Jacobs, (Nathaniel, Joseph, Nicholas,) born Apr. 26, 1719, Bristol, R. I., married (1st) Huldah Bosworth,

born Jan. 23, 1725. See Bosworth Line. Benjamin and Huldah married Nov. 24, 1748; Huldah Jacobs died Oct. 9, 1749; Benjamin married (2nd) Dorothy Arnold, Dec. 27, 1750. (28) Dorothy Arnold's date of birth, (unverified) is given as May 7, 1728. (29) Her death is given as July 13, 1799, Guilford, Vt. (30) Benjamin died between Sept. 8 and Oct. 23, 1775.

An unusual item about Benjamin Jacobs, from the Woodstock, Conn. vital records is noted: "Benjamin Jacobs entered intention to marry Sarah Utter, of Thompson Parish in Killingly, 1741, May 30th; Samuel Utter, father of Sarah, forbade the banns and the marriage did not take place." (31) More than 7 years passed before Benjamin actually did marry, so that the loss of Sarah Utter must have been a blow to him.

Benjamin Jacobs made his will Sept. 8, 1775; it reads in part: "I make and constitute my beloved wife, Dorothy, together with my son, Joseph, my sole executors....(I give) to son, William, (child of Huldah Bosworth) five pounds, to be paid within fifteen years.....to Peter Jacobs, my new wairing (?) cost.....to my wife, Dorothy, my riding mair to dispose of as her own, and give her one-third of my estate during her life after all my just debts are paid. The rest of my estate to my sons and daughters, Peter, Nathaniel, Nathan, and Stephen, Dorothy and Elizabeth, to be equally divided among them." Witnesses: Sam'l Short, Ezekiel Smith, Thos. Weaver. (32)

A document of Oct. 23, 1775, makes a long, detailed appraisal of "the estate of the late Benjamin Jacobs, of Killingly, to home lot of land and buildings, 7 acres and buildings appraised at 160 pounds;" many other possessions are itemized and appraised.

Dorothy Jacobs submitted numerous expense bills against the estate, under different dates; one expense bill reads: "To Bordon and Taylor White, for making clothes for my children, 5 shillings." Another reads: "for shoemaking, one pound, two shillings;" and under date of Mar. 10, 1776, "to goin to Woodstock 12 miles to settle a det with Silas Boer, 3 shillings." Another bill reads: "To three jorneys of my mair to Staford 56 miles - 9 shillings." There are several bills executed against the estate by other individuals, mainly for livestock sold to Benjamin Jacobs; the bills include one from Dorothy Jacobs' brother-in-law, the Rev. Whitman Jacobs. There are 50 documents on file in Benjamin Jacobs' Probate Records folder; one notes: "On Feb. 4, 1779, debts of Benjamin Jacobs fully paid." Signed: Dorothy Jacobs. (33)

Guardians were appointed for two of the young sons of the deceased Benjamin Jacobs: "Killingly, May 13, 1777, these are to certifie the Hon ble of Probate for Dist. Pomfret, that Nathan Jacobs, a minor, belonging to said town, personally appeared before me and chose Joseph Joslen of said Killingly, to be his guardian before Joseph Dresler, Justice of Peace." Several persons signed the document by which Mr. Joslen became guardian of young Nathan's estate, "for 300 pounds lawful money." This was executed Oct. 7, 1777. (34) At this time, Nathan Jacobs was 15.

Under date of Apr. 7, 1778, William Smith was chosen guardian of Nathaniel Jacobs' estate; Nathaniel was another son of Benjamin. (35)

On Feb. 4, 1779, Dorothy Jacobs petitioned for a distribution of the estate; and on Nov. 9, 1784, "at court holden in Pomfret, Dist. of Pomfret, Peter Jacobs appeared in behalf of his mother, Dorothy, executor to the late will and testament of Benjamin Jacobs." The court appointed 3 men of Killingly to make division of the Real Estate of the deceased among his legal heirs. Finally, Feb. 10, 1785, a distribution of the estate was made and shown in court, Jan. 7, 1787. (36) This lengthy document is so faded, it is almost illegible.

5. Whitman Jacobs, (Nathaniel, Joseph, Nicholas,) born May 3, 1721, organized and was the minister (elder) of the first Baptist Church in the State of Connecticut. It was popularly known as The Brandy Hill Baptist Church, Thompson, Conn.; however, Whitman Jacobs and his associates, who founded the church, called it The Six Principle Baptist Church, "organized on the six principles of Christ's Doctrine from Hebrews VI, verses 1 and 2." The church was founded in 1750. (39)

The Congregational Church was the established one of Conn., to which citizens paid certain fixed taxes or rates for its support. The membership of the Baptist Church of Thompson, under the ministry of Whitman Jacobs "increased rapidly," and the converts "refused to pay rates" to the Rev. Mr. Cabot, the minister of The Congregational Church. "Mr. Cabot made no attempt to discipline or retain such members as chose to unite with the Baptists. He inserted beneath their names, 'Gone with the Baptists.' However, a few years after Whitman Jacobs left, the Baptist Church declined in membership and practically "fell to pieces." (40)

Quite recently, a picture of The Brandy Hill Baptist Church of Thompson, appeared in a New Haven newspaper, with an article saying that the church was open one Sunday "recently for its single service of the year." It is opened "once annually to keep the few endowments legal." (41)

Whitman Jacobs, like so many of his relatives, removed to Vermont, and was pastor of the 2nd Baptist Church, Guilford, Windham Co., Vt.; in 1793, "Elder Jacobs of Guilford, participated" at an ordination and it was noted that "the Baptists were strong in Guilford." Whitman Jacobs afterwards removed to Royalton, Mass., and died there in 1801. (42)

Whitman seems to have been the only member of the Jacobs family who left the Congregational Church; however one authority suspected Nathaniel, Whitman's father of having leanings toward the Baptist Church, giving as her reasons that Nathaniel had lived "for a time in Rhode Island," and had named his son, Whitman, for "a noted Baptist Elder." (43) As we know, she was mistaken about the second reason; Whitman was named for his maternal grandfather, a Congregational Church Divine. (44) Moreover, there was no relationship between the two early Whitman families - the one of Weymouth, Mass., and the other of R. I. (44)

Two of Benjamin Jacobs' sons served in the Revolutionary War from Conn. Joseph, (ii) was a private in the 2nd Co., 3rd Regt., General Putnam's Division; and Peter, (v) was a private in Capt. Green's Co., 11th Regt. of the Militia. (45) His daughter, Dorothy, (iii) called "Dolly" as was her mother in the Vermont records, married Samuel Baker, Mar. 1, 1776. (46)

Presumably, shortly after the distribution of Benjamin Jacobs' estate, all his sons (except William) removed to Windham County, Vt. In the census of 1790, for that state, Stephen, Nathan, Nathaniel, Peter and Joseph are listed as heads of families. In that year, Nathaniel Jacobs was chosen Surveyor for Guilford, Vt. (47)

In Marlboro, Vermont, "Joseph Giles, an early settler, cleared land afterwards improved by Nathan Jacobs." (48)

6. Nathan Jacobs, (Benjamin⁴, Nathaniel³, Joseph², Nicholas¹,) born June 21, 1762, Thompson parish, Killingly, Conn., married Sarah Clark, born July 19, 1766, Hadley, Mass. See Clark Line. Date of marriage not found. They lived first, in Guilford, Vt., and in 1799, removed to Marlboro, Vt., where they lived until 1836, when they removed to Bennington, where Nathan Jacobs died May 4, 1846, and is buried in the Village Cemetery; his wife, Sarah, died Aug. 22, 1843, and is buried beside him. (49)

The first land record which mentions Nathan Jacobs in the records of Marlboro, Vt., is dated Nov. 19, 1799, when he bought a tract of land for $538. There are numerous land records showing that, throughout the years he lived in Marlboro, Vt., Nathan Jacobs bought and sold many pieces of real estate. His last land record is dated Jan. 9, 1830, when he deeded his "home and personal property" to his son, Benjamin Franklin Jacobs, for "his and his wife's care for the rest of their lives.." (50) Six years later, Nathan and Sarah Jacobs went to live in Bennington, Vt. Their daughter, Sarah, had married in 1831, and removed to Bennington. Apparently, her parents went there to be near her.

On Oct. 19, 1958, Nell W. Reeves and her husband, Edward H. Reeves, visited the Village Cemetery, Bennington, Vt., and on a lovely hillside, found the marble slabs marking the graves of Nathan and Sarah Jacobs.

The inscription on Nathan's stone:

Aged 77

Several of the sons of Nathan and Sarah Jacobs lived for a number of years in Brooklyn, N. Y., and are listed in the City Directories of Brooklyn. Farnend, (ii) is listed in 1833-34 at 5 Myrtle Street, occupation: gardener; in 1835-36, Farnend is again listed, same address, occupation: market man. Nathan (vi) listed in 1833-34, address: 287 Adams St., occupation: Millwright. Clark (viii) is listed. See under his name. Enoch (ix) is listed. See under his name.

William Loven Jacobs was made a freeman in Vt. Nov. 11, 1828. (52)

7. Clark Jacobs, (Nathan⁵, Benjamin⁴, Nathaniel³, Joseph², Nicholas,) born Aug. 11, 1802, married (1st) Clarissa, daughter of Solomon Dunklee of Brattleboro, Apr. 21, 1839. Clarissa was born Mar. 25, 1812; died Sept. 10, 1856; Clark Jacobs married, (2nd) Fanny, daughter of Adolphus Stebbins of Brattleboro; she was born Nov. 8, 1819.

Child of Clark and Clarissa Jacobs

- i. Martha Lucinda, born Aug. 5, 1840; married Sidney Morris, Feb. 3, 1858, to whom was born Frank Clark Morris, Nov. 9, 1860. (53)

Clark Jacobs was made a freeman in Marlboro, Vt., in 1823. He resided in Brooklyn, N. Y., from 1828 to 1836, occupation, Wheelwright; address, Fulton, corner of Pearl. From the records in the Brooklyn Directories, Clark seems to have been the first of the sons of Nathan Jacobs to go to Brooklyn. In the Directory of Brattleboro, Vt., 1883, Clark Jacobs is listed as "retired manufacturer," residence, West Brattleboro. In the Vital Records of Brattleboro, the date of his death is given, May 25, 1886, cause, "old age." (54)

8. Benjamin Franklin Jacobs, (Nathan⁵, Benjamin⁴, Nathaniel³, Joseph², Nicholas,) born Jan. 15, 1805, Marlboro, Vt., married Julia Boyd, of Wilmington, Vt.; he died Aug. 21, 1854, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Benjamin Franklin Jacobs was made a freeman in Vt., (Marlboro,) Sept. 4, 1827; (55) his father, Nathan, deeded his home and personal property to Benjamin Franklin Jacobs, Jan. 9, 1830, for "his and his wife's care for the rest of their lives." (56) It is not known just when he removed to Grand Rapids, Mich., but perhaps about 1836, as that was the date on which his parents removed to Bennington. There must have been an amicable arrangement with his sister, Sarah Jacobs Ellinwood, to take over the care of the parents, (she lived in Bennington) as we note that Benjamin F. and Wife, Julia, named a daughter, Sarah Ellinwood, in 1843. Benjamin F. Jacobs was said to have owned a grocery store in Grand Rapids, where his nephew, John Clark Jacobs, oldest son of Dr. Edwin Arnold Jacobs, worked for awhile as a boy. (57)

9. Enoch Jacobs, (Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) born June 30, 1809, married Electra Whitney, June 21, 1831, in Whitingham, Vt. At that time, he gave his address as "Brooklyn, N. Y." (59) From 1830 to 1834, Enoch Jacobs is listed in the Brooklyn, N. Y. City Directories, his address: 99 Fulton Street, occupation, "Soap stone furnace manufactory, soap stone cutter and great setter." (60) Later, Enoch Jacobs removed to Cincinnati, Ohio, (likely in 1834) and was living there in Walnut Hills section, in 1863. (See page 9a following)

10. Edwin Arnold Jacobs, (Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) born Marlboro, Vt., Dec. 8, 1811, youngest child of Nathan and Sarah Clark Jacobs; he married (1st) Sarah Ann Cowd of London, England, in New York about 1833; he married (2nd) Ellie Robinson in Louisville, Ky., after 1845; Edwin Arnold Jacobs died in Indian Gap, Texas, July 3, 1902, and is buried in Goldthwaite, Texas; his first wife, Sarah Ann Cowd died after 1845 in Ark.; (63) Edwin Arnold Jacobs died July 3, 1902, Indian Gap, Texas, and is buried in Goldthwaite, Mills County, Texas, beside his 2nd wife, Ellie Robinson Jacobs, who died in the 1880s. (64)

Edwin Arnold Jacobs and wife started on a westward journey after their marriage. Apparently, they went first to Ohio, as their son, John Clark Jacobs, their oldest child, was born there, in what county is unknown. Likely, Edwin Arnold Jacobs went to Ohio, to be near his brother, Enoch, who had removed to Cincinnati.

In 1845, Edwin Arnold Jacobs and family were residing in Ark., as his son, Edwin, was born there in that year. (65) Later, Dr. Jacobs was living in Louisville, Ky., where he married his 2nd wife. He is said by one granddaughter to have studied medicine in Tenn., but where is unknown. Dr. Jacobs was a practicing physician, and for many years, a country doctor in Texas. (66) The family removed to southeastern Texas, and lived at Rockport, Refugio County; and also in Bay City, Matagorda Island. (67) The family was in Rockport by 1858. (68) In 1872, Dr. Edwin A. Jacobs sold his property in Matagorda County but just when he acquired the property, was not determined by the records. (69) At this time, he must have removed to Dallas County, Texas. By 1880, he bought $109\frac{1}{2}$ acres of land in that county from his son, Edwin; (70) in 1885, he sold property in Bay City, which he had inherited from his daughter,

Children of Enoch and Electra Jacobs

- i. Electra, born Feb. 19, 1833
- ii. Charlotte, born Nov. 24, 1834; died Mar. 17, 1836
- iii. Emily, born Jan. 29, 1836; died Mar. 17, 1836
- iv. Son, born and died Apr. 4, 1837
- v. Enoch George, born Nov. 24, 1839
- vi. HENRY CLOSSEN, born Mar. 26, 1842 (see below)
- vii. Nathan, born Oct. 10, 1843
- viii. Charles Edward, born Aug. 20, 1845
- ix. Emily, born July 6, 1851 (61)

Henry Clossen Jacobs, son of Enoch, was killed in the Civil War. The following account appeared in the Cincinnati Commercial for June, 1863:

Henry Clossen Jacobs, "A faithful soldier, Pvt. Co. C, 5th Regt., Volunteers, killed in the Battle near Fredericksburg, Va., 2nd or 3rd of last month. He was the 2nd son of Enoch Jacobs, Esq., of Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio, formerly of Marlboro, Vt. He enlisted May, 1861, and had been in service 2 years.

Since his regiment left Camp Dennison, (Cincinnati,) he had not been absent from it for a day until he fought his last battle. We need not speak of his deeds of personal bravery for he belonged to a regiment of heroes. In the Battle of Winchester, Henry escaped with two ball holes in his coat. In the Battle of Port Republic, only one besides himself escaped capture--of all his companions who were in action. At the Battle of Cedar Mountain, the stock of his gun was shattered in his hand by rebel shot. He was in the Battle of Antietam and South Mountain, and was in over 20 considerable skirmishes." (62)

Mary Jacobs Mitchell, who with all her family had perished in a tidal wave about 1875. (71) In 1886, Dr. Jacobs sold 120 acres of land in Dallas County to his son, John Clark Jacobs, (72) and likely at this time, he retired from active practice of medicine, and removed to Indian Gap, Texas, where he lived on a ranch at the home of his son, Gus (E.R.) Jacobs, until his death. (73)

Children of Dr. Edwin Arnold Jacobs and wife,
Sarah Ann Cowd.

- 11+ i. John Clark, born May 4, 1835, in Ohio.
12+ ii. Sarah, born in Ark. (probably).
13+ iii. Mary, born in Ark. (probably).
14+ iv. Edwin, born in Ark. in 1845.

Children of Dr. Edwin Arnold Jacobs and wife,
Ellie Robinson

- 15+ v. Gus, (E.R.)
16+ vi. Fred, born 1859.

ii. John Clark⁷ Jacobs, (Edwin Arnold,⁶ Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas¹) born May 4, 1835; married (1st) Ruth Ann Mills, born in Ky., Oct. 4, 1835; died Aug. 1897, in Garland, Texas; the date of the marriage of John Clark Jacobs and Ruth Ann Mills, June 25, 1857. (74) John Clark Jacobs married (2nd) Mrs. Ruth Annie Groves; he died Jan. 28, 1923, Garland Texas.

When John Clark Jacobs was 13, his father presented him with a Bible; in the flyleaf it reads: "J. C. Jacobs' Book presented by his father, Dr. E. A. Jacobs, July 15, 1848." (75) This Bible was carried all through the Civil War, 1861 - 1865, by John Clark Jacobs, who was a Confederate Soldier in that war. He was living temporarily with his uncle, Benjamin Franklin Jacobs, in Grand Rapids, Mich., likely from 1848 until 1854, the date of his uncle's death. John Clark is said to have worked in his uncle's grocery store at this time. (76)

As stated above, John Clark Jacobs served in the Civil War. He was a pvt. Co. A., 31st Texas Cavalry, Trezevant C. Hawpe's Regt. (77)

In the 1880 Federal Census, the family of John Clark Jacobs is listed in Dallas County, Texas, no. 63; the following information is given: his age, 45; his occupation, farmer; his birthplace, Ohio; his father's birthplace, New York, which, as we know, is incorrect. The mistake may have been made because the county--Windham--in which Edwin Arnold was born, was at one time a part of Cumberland County, N. Y. His mother's birthplace, England. (78) In the census, Ruth Ann Jacobs gives her age as 44; her birthplace, Ky., her father's birthplace, Ohio; her mother's, Indiana. In the 1880 census are listed the following children:

- i. John C., son, 18, works on the farm, born in Texas.
- ii. Charles E., son, 14, born in Texas.
- iii. Clarissa J., daughter, 12, attends school, born Texas.
- iv. James N., son, 10, attends school, born Texas.
- v. Philia Ann, 4, born Texas.

As we know from family statements, and from family Bible records, there were two other children in the family, Edwin Arnold, and Lydia.

Lydia Jacobs is listed in the 1880 census of Dallas County as follows:

Festus Tinsley, 21, farmer, born in Va., as were his parents.

Lydia, wife of Festus Tinsley, 20, born Texas, her father's birthplace is given as Ohio; her mother's as Ky.; the couple had one child: Charles, 6/12 years old; ill with cholera infantum.

12. Sarah,⁷ (Edwin Arnold,⁶ Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) probably born in Ark., married the Rev. Van Butler, a Presbyterian minister; they lived in Palo Pinto County, Texas; they had one son, Neely Butler, who around 1904, had a grocery store in Mangum, Oklahoma.

13. Mary,⁷ (Edwin Arnold,⁶ Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) probably born in Ark., married William Mitchell in 1872, in Bay City, Matagorda Island, Texas; had two children. All her family were drowned in a tidal wave about 1875; her father, Dr. Jacobs, inherited her estate, which he sold in 1885, to Henry Serrill. (79)

14. Edwin⁷ Jacobs, (Edwin Arnold,⁶ Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) born in Ark. in 1845, like his brother, John Clark, is listed in the 1880 census of Dallas County, Texas; his age is given as 35; birthplace, Ark., his occupation, farmer; his father's birthplace, Vt.; his mother's, England.

Catherine, wife of Edwin, age 40, born in New York, as were her parents. No children listed.

15. Gus⁷ (E.R.) Jacobs, (Edwin Arnold,⁶ Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) about whom we know little. He is the son of Dr. Jacobs by his 2nd wife, Ellie Robinson. Gus lived on a ranch in Indian Gap, Texas; he had 7 children. He has two children living in Calif., now and his youngest daughter, Dean Jacobs Hill, lives near Hubbard, Texas. It was at the home of Gus that Dr. Jacobs spent his last days and died there in 1902; Gus died in 1934.

16. Fred⁷ Jacobs, (Edwin Arnold,⁶ Nathan,⁵ Benjamin,⁴ Nathaniel,³ Joseph,² Nicholas,¹) born in 1859, probably in Rockport, Texas; nothing more known. He, like Gus, was the child of Ellie Robinson.

In the Dallas County Federal census records for 1880, there are listed a number of families by the names of Tinsley and Mills but they have not been classified or identified; they are outside the scope of this History of the Jacobs family in the New England States.

ANCESTRY OF JOHN CLARK JACOBS,

ALLIED LINES

BOSWORTHS:

1. Edward Bosworth and wife, Mary, left England in the spring of 1634, in the ship Elizabeth Dorcas. They had with them their two sons, Benjamin and Nathaniel. An older son, Jonathan, had come to America a year or two before and had settled in "Newtowne," (Cambridge) Mass. (1) Edward Bosworth died as the ship sailed into Boston Harbor; as he was dying, at his request, he was taken on deck so that he might view "the promised land." His body was taken ashore and buried in Boston.

Edward Bosworth had borrowed money from Henry Sewall to pay the passage over to New England for his family. His wife was left penniless and was helped by the town. The money was a loan and the amount was about 100 pounds. The debts were assumed by the three sons and the son-in-law, William Buckland, who had married Mary Bosworth. Jonathan, 22, Benjamin, 20, and Nathaniel, not quite 18 years old, each paid about 20 pounds of the debt. (2)

2. Nathaniel² Bosworth, (Edward)¹ born Sept. 4, 1617, married Bridget Bellamy. They lived in Hull, Mass., but on May 1, 1682, they bought land in Bristol, R. I., and on Sept. 29, the same year, they sold their home in Hull; in 1683, Nathaniel Bosworth built his home, "Silver Creek" which is still standing, and is the oldest house in Bristol, R. I. Pictures show "Silver Creek" to be a beautiful Colonial house, in a lovely setting. A view of the parlor shows a magnificent room, with family portraits and appropriate antique furniture. "During the bombardment of Bristol by General Wallace in 1775, grape shot pierced its walls and lodged in the ceilings, where it was found years later, when repairs were being made." (3) The first religious worship in Bristol was held in this house. The first school in Bristol was also held in "Silver Creek," and the teacher was Nathaniel Bosworth's daughter, Mary.

Deacon Nathaniel Bosworth was one of the 8 men who founded the First Congregational Church of Bristol. He died Aug. 31, 1690, and his tombstone which reads, "The first Deacon of the Church of Christ in Bristol," is near the wall of The Congregational Church. (4)

3. Hannah³ Bosworth, (Nathaniel², Edward¹), born Apr. 30, (baptized July 16,¹) 1650, at Hull, Mass., married Joseph Jacobs. Hannah Bosworth Jacobs died after Jan. 23, 1731/32. (See Jacobs Line.)

4. Huldah⁵ Bosworth, (Nathaniel⁴, Joseph³, Jonathan², Edward¹), also married into the Jacobs Line. Huldah married Nov. 24, 1748, Benjamin Jacobs, (Nathaniel, Joseph, Nicholas,); Huldah was born Jan. 23, 1725, daughter of Nathaniel and Margaret Willmarth Bosworth. Huldah Jacobs died Oct. 9, 1749, after less than a year of marriage. The Bosworth Genealogy does not list her date of death, nor than she had a son, William Jacobs, born Sept. 17, 1749; William was living Sept. 8, 1775, as he is mentioned in his father's will. (5)

WHITMAN:

1. John¹ Whitman, the first American ancestor, came from England prior to 1638, as he was made a freeman in Dec. 1638 in Weymouth, Mass., where he had settled. (6) John was made an ensign in 1645, the first military appointment in the Town of Weymouth. He was a deacon in the church. John Whitman died Nov. 13, 1692.

Children of John Whitman

- i. Thomas, born 1629; died 1712
- ii. John, born ; died Feb. 1, 1713
- 2+ iii. ZACHARIAH, born 1644; died Nov. 5, 1726
- iv. Abiah, born 1646, died Jan. 28, 1727/28. (7)

1. Zachariah¹ Whitman, brother of John, and his wife, Sarah, sailed from London, England, Sept. 19, 1635, and came to New Haven. Sarah Whitman was the daughter of Richard and Martha (Turner) Biscoe of Chesham County, Bucks; she married Zachariah Whitman Nov. 9, 1606; they settled in Milford, Conn., where Zachariah Whitman was called one "of the seven pillars of the church in Milford." His will, dated "24th day 2nd month 1666," gave his house and land to Zachariah Whitman, his brother John's son, (called in the will, "cousin.") (8)

2. Zachariah² Whitman, son of John,¹ and heir of his uncle, Zachariah, was born in Weymouth, in 1644; he graduated from Harvard College in 1668; he was ordained Sept. 13, 1670. He became the minister of Point Alderton, Hull, Mass., with a salary of 40 pounds a year. He married Sarah, twin daughter with Ann, of Dr. John Alcock, (Harvard, 1646) of Roxbury, Mass. Sarah was baptized May 26, 1650; the contract of the marriage of Zachariah and Sarah Alcock was dated Oct. 26, 1670.

Zachariah Whitman was made a freeman in 1673. At the death of his uncle of the same name in Milford, Conn., he inherited the uncle's property. Sarah Alcock Whitman inherited "a considerable estate" in Stow, Mass. The Reverend Zachariah Whitman died Nov. 5, 1726. On Aug. 23, of that year, the town had voted to pay his children 25 pounds a year for his maintainance "while he lived and did not preach." He actually lived only a few months longer. Rev. Whitman "was the only minister Hull ever had who stayed throughout his life." Mrs. Whitman died Apr. 3, 1715, aged 65 years. Mr. Whitman "was a good scholar and penman and wrote most of the legal papers of Hull." (9)

Children of Zachariah and Sarah Whitman

- i. Zachariah, born 1672; died 1752.
- ii. John, born 1674; died Feb. 22, 1684, (oldest stone in the Hull graveyard.)
- iii. Joanna, born ; died , married Ephriam (or John) Hunt.
- iv. Samuel, born 1677; died July 31, 1751.
- v. Sarah, born ; died Sept. 29, 1784.
- vi. Elizabeth, born ; died in Hull, Nov. 19, 1708.
- vii. John, born 1688; died Aug. 3, 1772.

- ix. Eunice, born Apr. 10, 1696; died Oct. 5, 1734 (10)

3. Mary³(Mercy) Whitman, (Zachariah,² John,¹) as stated above, married Nathaniel Jacobs; see Jacobs Line

CLARK

1. John Clark, born in Ireland about 1704; settled in Hadley, Mass. His wife was Mary _____.

CHILDREN OF JOHN AND MARY CLARK

- 2+ i. JOHN, born about 1739; married Margaret Farrand, 1764. He died Jan. 29, 1829.
ii. William, (probably)
iii. Moses, born Aug. 7, 1749; married Sarah _____ (11)

2. John² Clark, (John) was a Lieutenant in the Revolutionary War. (12) See his record below. It would appear that John Clark also served in the French and Indian War of 1757-1758, as it is stated that "John Clark of Hadley had two sons, John and William, who were soldiers of the sixth war." They are identified as "Scotch-Irish." (12) The son, William, is not mentioned in the later records, so he probably moved away, or died without issue.

Revolutionary War Record of John Clark, of Hadley, Mass.

1775; service 2 mo. 3 wks., 6 days; also, Lt. Col. Brewer's Regt. list of officers appointed, but not commissioned owing to the confusion that took place, June 17, 1775; recommended by council, Sept. 27, 1775, to be commissioned by Gen. Washington; Also, company return (probably Oct. 1775) reported "gone to Quebec, Sept. 12; also First Lieutenant, Capt. Aaron Hayes (3rd) Co., Col. Asa Whitecomb's Regt. muster roll dated at Camp Ticonderoga, Nov. 27, 1776; reported taken prisoner Jan. 31, 1776, at Quebec; also reported on parole in Mass.; also, petition asking remuneration for gun, etc.; marched under Brig. Gen. Arnold to Quebec, where he was taken prisoner Dec. 31, 1775, in an attempt to storm the city, under command of the (late) Gen. Montgomery; also, Lieut. in Capt. Moses Kellogg's Co. Col. E. Porter's (Hampshire co.) Regt; marched to Moses Creek July 10, 1777, under command of Maj. Gen. Schuyler to reinforce the Continental Army; discharged Aug. 7, 1777, service 35 days, travel included; also same company and regt. marched Sept. 23, 1777, on an alarm to reinforce the Northern Army under Maj. Gen. Gates; discharged Oct. 18, 1777; service 32 days, travel included." (13)

In the Vermont record, John Clark is called "Captain John Clark," (14) and he may have had some later service in the Revolutionary War, which we have been unable to locate.
Lt. John Clark died Jan. 29, 1829. (15)
